

Individual Report for the Enlightenment Philosophers

Task: You have been asked to write the introduction or forward for a book written by the philosopher you and your group studied for round 2. In the forward you must explain the importance of the philosopher's ideas and their impact on the government of the United States today. Your introduction must also include an explanation of what the Enlightenment is and why it happened. Finally, your introduction must give reasons why young people should read this book.

- Introduction explains the philosopher's ideas and their importance.
- Introduction explains the impact of the philosopher's ideas on the government of the United States today.
- Introduction explains what the Enlightenment was and why it happened.
- Introduction gives reasons that young people should read the philosopher's book.